Here's The Way The Money Goes

Ottawa, March 12.—Kenneth Falconer, the accountant, was before the public accounts committee to-day and being examined by Hon. G. E. Foster, testified that he was secretary to the managing director, of Dun, Richards & Co., Montreal, acting as accountants and production engineers. The firm was composed of Messrs. Dun and Richards, New York, a brother, A. Falconer, and H. S. Wilson, both barristers in Montreal. He was not a "chartered accountant." He got to the marine department through the ordinary course of soliciting business and Mr. Broderick made the first overture. He told the minister it was impossible to estimate the cost, but would charge the usual schedule for the staff, actual travelling, expenses and living allowance. He would not say he had given the minister to understand a part of the staff was from the States. Mr. Foster read Falconer's account for Nov., 1906, containing charges of $75 and $40 per day and living allowance $5 and $3 and asked how, he put in the account in this form. The witness replied he had instruction from Deputy Minister Gourdeau to give per diem charges and not details, and maintained the charges were the same as paid him by private firms and corporations. Mr. Foster (Con.), Argenteuil, moved a resolution that as the revenues belonged to the people of the country and should be expended in the public interest the House condemn the expenditure on public works, which are really for the benefit of favored corporations and private individuals. He said while the country did not condemn spending for legitimate needs it did condemn frittering away vast amounts for political ends and, in the case of the Dun, Richards & Co., really had a bridge and at which only ten boats called regularly. During the season of 1905 the public works expenditure was $1,414,083.

Eighteen Thousand Persons Homeless

Manila, March 12.—Two thousand native houses have been destroyed and eighteen thousand persons made homeless in a suburb of Sampaloc as a result of a fire which started yesterday at 2 o'clock from a spark from a railroad locomotive. All the houses of the native type, shacks made of bamboo with thatched roofs. One of these roofs received the sparks and caught fire quickly. A high wind fanned the sparks into flames through the district. The fire department was unable to check the progress of the fire and in the effort nineteen thousand feet of hose was burned. The loss is about a hundred thousand dollars in gold. No American is among the sufferers. The homeless are being cared for by the police and churches. There were no casualties.

PASSENGERS GOT A SCARE

(Special to The Chronicle).
New York, March 13.—Three hundred and fifty passengers on the Fall River steamer Providence were terror-stricken this morning when fire was discovered on the boat. Another steamer was communicated with by wireless telegraphy and the passengers were told to get off.

JAPANESE MURDER

Vancouver, B. C., March 13.—A Japanese murdered a countryman last Saturday at Stranville Bay, three miles from the coast. The murderer dived into a fishing boat which he stole from the water front and had a fight with a man. The victim was slain.

Professional Baseball

It is probable that professional baseball has flickered out of existence in Alberta. Whether this is a matter for regret is extremely doubtful. The Edmonton Journal published the following dispatch on the subject: "The Lethbridge Athletic association have practically abandoned all ideas of entering any professional baseball league. An amateur league consisting of teams from Lethbridge, Taber, Macleod and other southern Alberta towns is in progress of formation."

Just what the north will do remains to be seen. It is quite possible that they too will abandon professionalism and take up amateur playing.

The president of the western league, Bruce Robinson, called a meeting at Calgary the other day and F. J. Fields of this city were the only ones present. Mr. Robinson announced that from then on he would have nothing more to do with the organization and would forthwith resign his office. He had tried, together, but had never succeeded and he was done with the whole matter. Mr. Fields in a statement said he had been there for the past ten days for the express purpose of getting the league started. They had called two meetings at which there had been an attendance of two or three at each meeting and no one wanted to do anything until they had a representative meeting. Medicine Hat and Lethbridge had been also been invited to send representatives.

Mr. Fields also asked the Calgary baseball players to appoint a delegate to go with him to Wetaskiwin to get them interested and to get a delegate from Wetaskiwin to go to Strathcona to get them interested also. Nothing has come of the suggestion so far and Mr. Fields stated that the baseball people up north are of the opinion that the people of Calgary can play ball better than a stone in the winter than they can of the diamond in the summer.

25 LIVES LOST IN MINES

Birmingham, March 12.—The long period of anxiety and suspense over the fate of the contorted miners at Hampstead colliery came to a heart-breaking end last night, for the crowds waiting at the mouth of the pit, when it was announced that despite the most heroic efforts, there was no possibility of any of the men being taken out alive. Fire broke out in the colliery last Wednesday evening, twenty-six miners being caught in the pit. Since then every man available has been engaged day and night in building a new culvert, with the object of reversing the ventilation and clearing the shaft of foul fumes. This work meant the removal of hundreds of tons of earth, the installation of new fans and other apparatus, but disappointment succeeded disappointment.

At first repeated efforts of rescue parties to reach the miners failed, several members of the parties being overcome by fumes, all efforts in this direction having to be abandoned. Then the construction of a new culvert was begun and when the work had been accomplished it was found that falls of earth had blocked the ventilation doors below, involving further delays.

Only yesterday was the system finally found to be working and supplying sufficient cool and pure air to permit exploration. So hopes ran high, but late last night only one body had been recovered. It was that of one of a racing party, who, overcome by fumes, was left by his companions in the mine several nights ago. As yet there is no trace of the others and conditions are now such as to preclude the possibility of their being brought to the surface alive.

Plenty of Beauty Not Much Hockey

Last evening the school girls and the grown-ups played another game of so-called "hockey," and the result was a draw, each team scoring three goals. The grown-ups performed much better than on Saturday. On that occasion they paid too much attention to appearances, every member of the team apparently thinking more about how she would look sprouting on the ice if her smaller opponent happened to trip her, than of getting possession of the puck. Last evening it was different; the heavy-weights' cast dignity to the winds, and went out to play hockey. The result was a good deal of heavy checking and not a few falls, but fortunately the ice was hard and did not sustain much damage. A good deal of the play was not above suspicion, and numerous were the penalties, the judge's box being almost filled with fair delinquents at times. It was amusing to see the noisy, impatient air with which the offending players received the decisions of the judge of play, and the vindictive "light-o'-oven" manner in which they joined in the fray on being released. One determined young lady who openly defied the over-worked officials is evidently destined to become an advocate of votes for women for a high position in hockey.

The most exciting incident of the evening occurred when the majority of the members of both teams met right in front of the school-girls' goal and engaged in a life and death struggle which was suggestive of a rugby football scrimmage rather than a "hockey" match. It looked like a certain score, but when the referee and judge of play had succeeded in parting the combatants and calming them somewhat, the puck was found to be still outside the net, thanks principally to the plucky little girl with the big paws.

We regret that we have neither the technical knowledge nor a sufficient command of language to enable us to describe the play in detail. We also regret that as our society editor is out on strike, we cannot give a detailed description of the costumes, but from a male point of view all the players appeared to be charmingly attired.

We would recommend our readers, if the ladies play again this season, to make a point of seeing the game.

The line-up, we are informed, was as follows:

Goal-keepers.
Kathleen Lavell	Miss A. Beaton
Jean Skinner	Miss Lavell
Marjorie Holton	Miss Wilson
Goal.
Agnes Wilson	Miss Carmichael
Irene Martin	Miss Beaton
Ylva Bernard	Miss Martin
Right.
Eda Lynn	Miss Barshaw
Referee—R. H. Dobson; judge of play, C. Martin.

POWER COMMISSION TO BE CREATED

(Special to The Chronicle).

Toronto, March 13.—It is said that when Ontario has formally asked the federal government for power contracts, a Power Commission will be created with the Hon. Adam Beck at the head with a portfolio as Minister of Power.

FELL OFF ROOF.

(Special to The Chronicle).

Huntsville, Ont., March 13.—J. H. Jackson, a jeweler, climbed on to the roof of his establishment to clear it of snow and slipping off fell on his head, meeting with instant death.

Board of Trade And Dominion Fair

The regular meeting of the Board of Trade which was postponed from Monday night on account of no quorum being present was brought off yesterday afternoon. There were in attendance, the President, Mr. J. M. Douglas, Dr. Hooton, and Messrs. J. J. McFarland, W. H. Sheppard, F. C. Jamieson, O. Bush, J. P. Weir, A. Baslin, J. L. Porte and H. M. Widdington.

Petitions and correspondence having been read the meeting endorsed petitions by the Tofield Board of Trade to the Railway Commissioners and to the Minister of Inland Revenue, and also a petition with regard to land mining. Various advertising communications including one from the Alberta Homesteaders were on the motion of Ald. Sheppard, seconded by ex-Alderman McFarland, laid on the table till next meeting. Several accounts were, on the motion of Ald. Bush, seconded by Ald. Baslin, ordered to be paid. The meeting then proceeded to consider the question of a twin city exhibit to the Dominion Fair which will be held at Calgary from June 20th to July 9th. Mr. A. G. Harrison, secretary of the Edmonton Board of Trade, reported what he had done at Calgary and the provisions which Calgary were prepared to make for the Twin City exhibit. These explanations were further amplified by Mr. Douglas, who reported what had been done in consultation with Messrs. Morris and Bellamy, the Edmonton representatives who had laid the case for a civic subsidy before the City Council.

A good deal of discussion took place as to the amount of space offered in the main building, it being widely considered that the offer of 14 feet by 10 feet was by no means a liberal one. The question of a separate building was also discussed and ultimately a resolution was passed on the motion of Mr. F. C. Jamieson, seconded by ex-Alderman McFarland, endorsing the application to the City Council and approving the sending of a Twin City exhibit at a cost to Strathcona not to exceed $1,000, or one-third of the total cost. This was carried unanimously. Ald. Sheppard drew attention to the fact that the New Westminster exhibit had only cost $100. Mr. Porte explained that the exhibits had been supplied gratuitously by the farmers on that occasion, and that it would be impossible to give a satisfactory exhibit for nothing on this occasion. Several gentlemen also thought that an exceptional effort should be made at this fair. The whole matter was, however, contingent on the city granting support. It was suggested that Strathcona send a representative along with Messrs. Morris and Bellamy to Calgary but the matter was left undecided.

Some discussion then took place as to altering the hour of meeting, and on the motion of J. P. Weir, seconded by J. L. Porte, it was arranged that in future the regular meetings of the board should be held on the first Tuesday of each month at 4 p.m. in the Board of Trade office.

Lamont News

Lamont, March 12.—Mr. E. A. Holmes has been sick with pleurisy but is getting better again.

Mr. Bell is better and able to be around again.

Mr. Pendleton is building a house east of Mr. Dallas, for his sister-in-law, Miss Kaufman. Miss Kaufman is quite a "sympoist" at many things. She will start a printing office, and is likely a local newspaper, also a photograph studio. All these Lamont needs.

R. Swan, wife and daughter, have returned from Nebraska. The trip seems to have done them good, all looking so well and happy, only we suppose, glad to get back to Sunny Alberta. We love the country, even although at present it is run by Grits.

Jim McBride is at Floating Stone, improving on his homestead.

Mr. Harrison's father and two sisters will be in Lamont in a few days; also Ben Harold and wife. So Lamont grows.

We believe Star is putting up a brick school house. They don't want to be behind Lamont too far. John D. Campbell is chairman of that district. John is now chief almost since its inception in 1905.

What a hell-a-balloo those Grits have been making regarding the action of Manitoba. Mr. Roblin wants cash in lieu of extended territory, so as to be like our two provinces, Saskatchewan and Alberta, only those poor ignorant Grits have never studied physical geography. If so, they might find out the reason of Mr. Roblin's action. Manitoba, chiefly wants a road to Hudson Bay and no doubt they will get it.

The Hon. George Foster is an awful thorn in the side of the slick Grits at Ottawa. George is sorely needed. How those unfortunate Grits, when they get positions, flock over to England. Previously they hadn't the money, neither the position, at the time of said marriage.

Salvation Army Explains Methods

Toronto, March 12.—Before an audience of over eight hundred unemployed labor men at Labor Temple this morning the Salvation Army was requested to give an explanation of their emigration policy. The meeting was called by the Socialist party for the purpose of discussing the question "Cause and cure of starvation in midst of plenty," and also to consider the best methods of securing relief. Major Morris stated on behalf of the Army that they were misrepresented and the Army would prepare for those they brought over if they were appealed to for help.

PAPERS SERVED ON HARRY K. THAW.

New York, March 11.—Harry K. Thaw was served late today with a copy of summons and complaint in the proceedings brought by his wife, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, to annul the marriage. A messenger delivered the papers to Thaw at the Metropole in New York and at the same time Mrs. William Copley Thaw, who was made a co-defendant, was served at the Hotel Lorraine in this city.

Daniel O'Reilly, counsel for Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, explained that though Thaw's mother was made a co-defendant as being the next of kin, she is technically the real defendant, the law presuming her son to be insane and therefore legally dead. Evelyn called at O'Reilly's office to-day and attached her signature to the papers in the case. As she left the office Mrs. Thaw was asked whether she would later, as had been intimated, make public the cause of the arrangement that led to the annulment suit. She replied: "The public will never know."

The papers served to-day briefly recite the fact of the marriage at Pittsburgh on April 4th, 1905, and set forth "that at the time of the marriage of the plaintiff to the defendant, the defendant was a lunatic and of unsound mind and was incapable of making a valid contract of marriage. The cause for annulling the marriage to wit: the lunacy of Harry K. Thaw, existence at the time of said marriage."

CURRENT COMMENT

The Twin City exhibit at the Dominion Fair to be held this year at Calgary is engaging the attention of the boards of Trade of both cities. We have no doubt that the interests of the Twin Cities will be thoroughly guarded by Messrs. Morris and Bellamy for Edmonton and Mr. Porter for whoever else is deputed to represent Strathcona in the negotiations. There is no doubt, however, that the Twin Cities will have to take a very firm position or they will find that Calgary and the south have succeeded in side-tracking Central Alberta. The amount of space offered, 14 by 30 feet, seems to us a very good grant of space to the Twin Cities and the Saskatchewan. The Capital and the University City cannot afford to send an exhibit to the Dominion Fair that does not rank both in quality and in extent of display with anything in the province. The two cities represent the largest cities together in Alberta and they would be false to themselves if they accepted anything short of the best place and space. They should be given a space equal to Calgary and superior to any other community in the province. We recently observed an issue of the "Gleichen Call" that the Dominion Fair authorities had granted a large space to Gleichen and writing from recollection as we have not the paper before us we would state the space of 30 feet. Now, this is a matter that demands consideration. Not only must the Twin Cities get a sufficient space for an exhibit in keeping with their importance, but that exhibit must not be dwarfed by every small city in the south obtaining equally large grants.

There is nothing of the "dog in the manger" in this contention. The south never loses an opportunity to knock Central Alberta, and protestations of friendliness well welcome must be treated warily. Sudden conversions we are very sceptical of and this new found affection is suspicious. The Dominion Fair is crowded with long-drawn life from the south and Edmonton and Strathcona with even a moderately sized exhibit provided it did not bear the proper relative proportion in size to the other exhibits would do more to knock this fair portion of this fair province than the "wildcat" fairy tales about the "iron north" ever weaved from the phantasies of a cow puncher's brain. The Twin Cities want a fair deal or none. Boycott is not a pretty word nor is boycotting a pretty deed, but it would be better to resort to this than to have the Twin Cities made a spectacle for the amusement of the sturdy Calgaryans. We do not object to their housing their city but we do object to their using us at the expense of the Capital and the University City.

AN EMPIRE BUILDER'S SUCCESS

(Collier).

By this time Dr. Parkin, G.C.M.G., is back in London, and the Hats of Empire Distinctions feel less valuable for his presence. There is no one quite as astounding as Dr. Parkin. He breaks the stability of establishments and the permanence of institutions. Canada is very proud of him as a Canadian upholding Canada's banner in a country from which we get confusion, Governors-General, and excellent woolsens. Canada, we may say, is sustained and soothed by the brave words which Dr. Parkin, as the commercial traveller of Empire, crosses the ocean ever and anon and says to us as often as we need them. The British Empire, judged along fairly well for hundreds of years, but it was never a real success until Dr. Parkin took hold of it. It will be an inspiration to our young men to recall his career. He was born in New Brunswick, where George E. Foster comes from. There he lived, thrived, and grew to vigorous manhood on a diet of porridge, salt air, bacon, and high thought. Such is the nourishment of great men. Circumstances made of Dr. Parkin at first a schoolmaster, and a good schoolmaster he was—so good that he went to Toronto and became principal of Upper Canada College. Toronto impressed as he had New Brunswick with the gravity of his manner and the weight of his words. He became persona grata with the newspapers. Reporters found that no man better than he could give a brisk synopsis of what had gone on at the dinner before they dropped in for Dr. Parkin, mind you, attended many banquets and gave high places. To his other accomplishments, Dr. Parkin added that of being correspondent of the London "Times," and must have sent as much as a hundred words a month to that venerable organ. This constant gave him a natural leaning toward Empire-building, and his friends were not surprised when they heard that after years of fine speeches and expansive sentiments Dr. Parkin had landed a good job in the line of endeavor he had always favored. As press agent and general manager of the Rhodes Scholarship fund, Dr. Parkin jumps over sea and land with seven league boots, and the Empire is just a little more solid wherever he goes.

TO-MORROW NIGHT.

Robert Ganthony appears at Stanley Hall Montreal, for the first time in Canada before a large select and fashionable audience and scores a triumph success, all four of the Montreal daily papers speaking in glowing terms of this great artist's entertainment. This Company of London artists join him at Montreal for his Western Canada tour after his recital there. This is the first time a company of artists has ever been associated with Mr. Ganthony on a concert tour making their entertainment attractive from every standpoint. See posters for Montreal press criticisms and others. This splendid concert party of his people will appear at the Grand Opera House, to-morrow evening, and will be the event of the season. "Winning Telegram," Feb. 1st, says: "One of the most delightful and marvellous entertainments ever presented in this city. Ganthony has it been our good fortune to see and hear a more versatile genius than Robert Ganthony the humorist, actor, artist, musician, mimic, magician, perhaps the most comical item on the program was a burlesque sermon on the text of 'Ho-Pop' which fairly convulsed the audience. Don't forget that Robert Ganthony with his concert party, four ladies and two gentlemen, will appear at Strathcona to-morrow evening."

to-night. We ain't got a full ship's company, so—

"Yes," we have, sir. Reilly fetched the mail-pair aboard about eight.

Strike, was distinctly nervous. He was anything but a nervous man, generally spry, but at eleven o'clock, with the tide three hours on the ebb, full crew, aboard, and the ship waiting to cast off, it was disgusting to be minus a skipper. And Captain Zeke Penman was usually the most punctual of men.

"Lain knows what's become of him," he said to Mr. Nye, the second mate. "Something's happened, sure. 'Twas three hours ahead of time I'd expect him any minute; but more'n two hours behind. I'm scared."

"Maybe he's drunk," suggested Nye, who had never sailed with Captain Penman.

"Drunk! Zeke Penman! Don't talk foolish; he's a teetotaler—on board ship or high sailin' time, anyhow."

The second mate spat disgustedly. "Faud!" he exclaimed. "He ain't, is he? Why didn't you tell me that afore I signed articles? A teetotaler whaler! I didn't believe there was such a thing."

"Well, there is, and . . . HUI!"

"But how in the world did he come to be so extravagant with his money? Zeke Penman in a hired hack! I'll believe the millenium's struck, next year."

"It was Captain Zeke, sure enough, and in a cab. The Captain alighted from the vehicle, out more strictly speaking, fell out of its door, and staggered to the string-piece of the wharf."

"Obed," he called. "Obed Coffin, where in time are you?"

"Aye, aye, skipper," replied the wondering first mate. "I'm mighty glad to see you. I was beginnin' to think—"

"But up! Go in! stand talkin' all night? Day this mornin'! I'm not a teetotaler—fifty cents—no more!"

"Hurry up, will you! Oh Lord, my head!"

Mr. Coffin paid the driver, and the Captain of the Lucky Strike prepared to climb aboard his vessel. He seemed to find it a difficult task.

"Here!" he growled. "Give me a hand, won't you! And be lively about it."

Obed helped him over the rail while Mr. Nye assisted by holding a lantern.

"Ain't sick, sir, are you?" asked the first mate.

"No!" sputtered Captain Zeke savagely.

"Course he ain't," put in Nye, hugely delighted. "You're all right, skipper? Sea legs ain't, are they?"

"Then in Mr. Coffin's ear he whispered: 'This what you call a teetotaler!'"

"The Captain heard him. 'What's that?' he demanded. 'You want to hint that I've been drinkin' liquor and I'll—oh, my head!'"

"Hain't we better get under way?" asked Obed, hurriedly.

"Have you—have you seen anything of—of a nephew of mine?" Captain Zeke blurted out the question.

"No, sir. Was that the new cabin-boy? He hasn't turned up. Thought you was goin' to fetch him from Hayport!"

The skipper growled aloud. In his coat pocket was a note, which he had found in the room at the Bay State House after being shaken into wakefulness by the night clerk. Its every word was burned into his memory. It ran as follows:

"Dear Uncle Zeke: I decided not to go whaling and I put two of your rheumatic pills in that coffee you drank. You said yourself you could take fifty of 'em, so I know two won't hurt you. I'm off to dig gold. When I come back rich maybe I will call on you and Aunt Elvira."

"Your loving nephew, Edward Copeland."

"P. S.—I took what money you had in your pockets to pay my fare. You can take enough to make us square out of the bank where you put my fifty."

"Shall I get under way?" repeated Mr. Coffin, watching his superior, Captain Zeke, sick, wrathful, and humiliated, his head splitting and his stomach turning somersaults, growled again.

"I guess not, Obed," he stammered. "I callate we won't sail to-night."

"We ain't got a full ship's company, so—"

"Yes," we have, sir. Reilly fetched the mail-pair aboard about eight.

Strike, was distinctly nervous. He was anything but a nervous man, generally spry, but at eleven o'clock, with the tide three hours on the ebb, full crew, aboard, and the ship waiting to cast off, it was disgusting to be minus a skipper. And Captain Zeke Penman was usually the most punctual of men.

"Lain knows what's become of him," he said to Mr. Nye, the second mate. "Something's happened, sure. 'Twas three hours ahead of time I'd expect him any minute; but more'n two hours behind. I'm scared."

"Maybe he's drunk," suggested Nye, who had never sailed with Captain Penman.

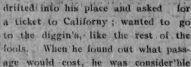

"Drunk! Zeke Penman! Don't talk foolish; he's a teetotaler—on board ship or high sailin' time, anyhow."

The second mate spat disgustedly. "Faud!" he exclaimed. "He ain't, is he? Why didn't you tell me that afore I signed articles? A teetotaler whaler! I didn't believe there was such a thing."

"Well, there is, and . . . HUI!"

Thursday, the following figures were given:

New army needs 173,000 horses (59,000 riding.

In Britain are 1,250,000 horses (150,000 fit for cavalry).

We have 1,368 cavalry men and only 7,577 horses.

Lord Donoughmore, ex-Under Secretary for War, did not believe that the provision of government establishments was practical.

Colonel Grant, War Office, announced that Mr. Haldane, and Lord Carrington had under consideration an important scheme for the encouragement of breeding army horses, while the war office had a scheme to secure a larger reserve.

POLITICAL QUARREL ENDS FATALLY.

Amite La, March 12.—The very strained political situation in Louisiana Democratic circles was last night responsible for the killing of Democratic State Senator-elect D. S. Kemp of this city. He was shot and killed by C. F. Hyde, a young politician and business leader of the section.

Yesterday the men quarrelled about the Democratic primary for governor, in which J. J. Bailey and Paul Lomberton competed, with the result that Bailey, the defeated candidate, filed a protest, charging the Democratic State Central committee with fraud. Hyde, in discussing this controversy, is alleged to have called Kemp a liar. The friends of both men thought the incident trivial and that it had apparently been forgotten, until last night, when Senator Kemp, with a drawn revolver, walked into Hyde's place of business, accompanied by a friend. Hyde was unarmed. Kemp still keeping his revolver in sight, demanded an apology, which was refused. Kemp is then alleged to have shot Hyde.

The senator's friends at this point interfered and separated the two men, who thereupon agreed to meet and fight it out with revolvers. Senator Kemp then left and Hyde went into his home nearby and secured a revolver. When he came out he shouted to Kemp to wait for him, which the senator did. They approached each other and Hyde opened fire, two shots fatally wounding the senator, who died within thirty minutes after the shooting.

Hyde was not injured, and witnesses claim that Kemp did not shoot, appear to have been drunk, says age, and Hyde is 24 years old. He had not been arrested up to an early hour to-day.

Stop That Cold

To check early colds or grippe with "Preventics" means sure relief for pneumonia. To stop a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. To be sure, Preventics will cure even a deadly cold, but on head of these early colds that's surely better. That's why they are called Preventics.

Preventics is like Uncle Sam's Cold Cream. No quackery, no drugging, nothing alarming. Use for the children—and thoroughly safe too. If you feel chilly, if you sneeze, if you are all over shivers, if you have a sore throat, if you have a runny nose, if you have a cough, if you have a cold, if you have a fever, if you have a headache, if you have a toothache, if you have a pain in your back, if you have a pain in your chest, if you have a pain in your stomach, if you have a pain in your head, if you have a pain in your
